

"Memo" Lyrics

Kota the Friend

New day, new dollar, I'm makin' change
I leverage all of my knowledge and profit off of my pain
I copped a deserted island and kept it far from the rain
I noticed nothin' was growing and then it went up in flames
Livin' for the moment, I keep it all in the frame
I chose to live in reality, exit out of the game
Film photo filter banalities of the world
And if it entertain, then morality down the drain Happiness is what I'm gettin' to Everything you takin' in should make an even better you
I'm human and I urge you to never put me on pedestals
I hope you never trade a better view for a better view
I hope you makin' sure all your trauma don't get the best of you Hope the person inside that mirror has been respecting you Hope you treat your virtuous qualities like collectibles
Hope you love yourself by acceptin' the blessings meant for you
I hope this memo get to you like
I left you with a memo (I left you with a memo)
It don't take long to read (not a lot of words at all)
One day, you gon' let go (one day, you gon', one day, you gon')
One day, you'll be free (know exactly who you are)
In the back of that photo (Polaroid, Polaroid, Polaroid, Polaroid)

Right there, you will see (right there, you will see, right there, you will see)
My name in a memo (my name in a memo)
I hope it get to you in peace (I hope it get to you in peace)
January 18th, at ten thirty, you were born and I held you in my arms
Told my mama you were beautiful
Lookin' back at me like I was new to you I knew that I could never handle losin' you I sacrificed a lot so you never have to Took the stones they threw at me and I made a castle
Left behind what I used to be, now I'm lookin' at you
With a new set of eyes, guess I was lookin' past
you
But who you was today isn't set in stone if you always settin' goals
You can have a better life, better wife, better home
Most important, I hope that you better when you left alone
Comfy with yourself, takin' peace everywhere
you go
And only you can meet your needs if you didn't know
When you love yourself, ain't a single place that isn't home
And when you home, keep it clean, keep it safe and serene
One day, I'ma leave, so
I left you with a memo (I left you with a memo)
It don't take long to read (not a lot of words at all)

(continued below)

"Memo" Lyrics

Kota the Friend

One day, you gon' let go (one day, you gon', one day, you gon')
One day, you'll be free (know exactly who you are)
In the back of that photo (Polaroid, Polaroid, Polaroid, Polaroid)
Right there, you will see (right there, you will see, right there, you will see)
My name in a memo (my name in a memo)
I hope it get to you in peace (I hope it get to you in peace)
Sendin' you my love from New York City with peace Sendin' you my love from Cali' on Cherry Beach Sendin' you my love from Harrisburg, Pennsylvania
You wrote me and then you said I'm your savior, to say the least
Thank you all for comin' and packin' out every show
And puttin' me in your story and keepin' me on repeat
Thank you for the flowers when I was hittin' my lows
And thinkin' of givin' up and leanin' over the brink
Lot of people ask me for advice
Slow down, only do some [REDACTED] if it feel right Hold down people that have given you real love
And if you got a dream, just do it like Phil Knight

Ain't no type of love like self-love
So always make time for yourself, love and keep your mental health up Meditation helps and your health is your wealth
And you learned this all yourself, so
I left you with a memo (I left you with a memo)
It don't take long to read (not a lot of words at all)
One day, you gon' let go (one day, you gon', one day, you gon')
One day, you'll be free (know exactly who you are)
In the back of that photo (Polaroid, Polaroid, Polaroid, Polaroid)
Right there, you will see (right there, you will see, right there, you will see)
My name in a memo (my name in a memo)
I hope it get to you in peace (I hope it get to you in peace)
And there you have it
The long journey home come to an end
You had some good times
You had some down times
You learned a lot
You laughed, you cried
But you found your way home
And I'm glad you did

Source: LyricFind